THE DIVINE CURRICULUM: DIVINE DESIGN: HOW GOD'S PLAN IS REVEALED IN THE WORLD'S GREAT RELIGIONS

BY EDWARD PRICE PDF

IMAGINE AN ANCIENT, universal and Divinely-conceived plan that is binding together the world's great religions, unfolding over time and guiding humanity toward an ultimate, meaningful purpose. Such a Divine plan exists. All creation is the classroom. And Divine Educators have presented this soul-saving and civilization-advancing curriculum to all of humanity. The Divine curriculum is progressive and never-ending because the knowledge and grace of God cannot be exhausted. The six-volume Divine Curriculum series tells the surprising 4,000-year story of how the great Divine Educators were sent by God from the earliest times to educate humanity—and yet, according to author Edward Price, this sweeping story has really just begun.

For questions like, "Does everyone have the same God

By Allison Ashley

I'm really impressed and blown away by The Divine Curriculum, Volume I - Divine Design because of the fresh, unique, insightful and friendly approach regarding the Abrahamic religions. This book gives the historical and religious context over the last 4,000 years, and the relationship each religion has to each other in a refreshing and uniquely harmonizing way.

It starts with the premise that: all of creation is a classroom - that the Creator/Owner/Director of the school is God, and that the Teachers in the school do not argue with each other. In fact, they affirm and praise each other. There is a concise and eloquent overview of the mission, teachings and stature of each of the Founders of the Abrahamic religions. The next sections are: Divine Curriculum, Divine Reality - One God, Divine

Design, Divine Educators and the conclusion. Using the analogy of God educating humanity, with each Educator who has been sent, the author shares unusual perspectives - that humanity has been learning spiritually necessary concepts from God through the Divine Educators.

Age old, weighty topics require weighty and thorough explanations. For questions like, "Does everyone have the same God?" and "Would a just and loving God condemn everyone to Hell for not believing in _____ (fill in the blank)?" and "If Muhammad is the Seal of the Prophets, how could a faithful Muslim accept Prophets who come after Him?" These and many other relevant questions are explored, and like every other aspect of this volume, the author unites rather than divides. Edward Price kindly and plainly demonstrates his view that indeed, Christians, Jews, Muslims and Baha'is have the same God, and that each Founder was a Divine Educator.

This book is timely in it's perspective about Islam in particular, and the current turmoil in the world today inflicted by extremists. The author sites passage after passage from the Qur'an, including the context, that prove jihadi extremists are completely twisting scripture to fit their objectives.

The Divine Curriculum is written at the depth of a scholar, but in a way that the average person can make perfect sense of the presentation. When it comes to spirituality and religion, I highly recommend The Divine Curriculum to anyone who sincerely questions.

Read this book and gain perspective!

By Mark

In an age where religions seem more in conflict than in agreement, this book should be read by everyone. After reading this you will look at the news stories about wars, oppression, and terrorism, all in the name of one religion or another, and think, "What are we doing? We're all part of the same Divine Plan!" This book wonderfully allows you to take a step back and gain perspective on the grand sweep of religious history.

Edward Price deals with some pretty big subjects but in a very readable, relatable way. Two things stand out to me that really give the reader a framework for understanding: first the concept of the "Divine Curriculum", that God the Creator is also our Master Educator who has designed an ages-long educational process. We have been going to school since the very beginning, and His teachers are the founders of the world's great religions (he focuses on the Abrahamic religions in this book) and His text books are the scriptures they revealed. Second, he adeptly separates the "human side" of religion (the man-made laws, ceremonies, practices, etc.) from the "divine side" of each of the religions. What did the Prophet or Messenger or Manifestation ACTUALLY say and do, Not what theologians said. Not what his followers say or do in His Name. He takes each religion, each Teacher, each Scripture (Old Testament, New Testament, Holy Qu'ran, Baha'i Writings) on their own terms. Lovingly and respectfully. Then, he can discuss things like the nature of God, our relationship to Him, our purpose for being here, etc., and present passages from all those Scriptures that make things is so clear.

One other note: the chapter on Muhammad and Islam, where he goes into some history of how the current jihadists developed, then point by point shows how what they believe and how they act are directly opposed to the religion Muhammad actually taught is very clarifying. To me, that chapter alone is worth the price of the book!

As someone who has studied religions and religious history I still learned a lot. Big big recommend!

A text for school in the world

By SamG

This is the most significant book on religion that I have ever read by an American author.

I say American because many of the books to which he refers are by other authors from elsewhere. I am 68 years old and I have read voraciously most of my life. I just wish I had had this book when I was young. It answers so many of the questions that I had as a youth. It's really nice to get a glimpse of why the world and the religions are the way they are. It's also nice to see some of the reasons for how so much dis-information has accumulated over the centuries and who is propagating it.

It's worth savoring. So many of the quotes caused me to simply stop and ponder them. Extremely edifying!

I would highly recommend it to every Jew, Christian, Moslem and Baha'i ... Buddhist, Hindu, and Zoroastrian, too.
